We have partnered with impressive operators who are motivated to take the business to the next level. We look forward to combining our skillsets to achieve ambitious objectives."

Rudi Minty, a Director at OI noted: "Ensuring that we partner with an entity that shares both our values and vision was of critical importance for us. This allows us to continue with the entrepreneurial culture and spirit which has made us successful as a business. We are really looking forward to this next chapter of our business."

Arnold van den bout, a Director at OI commented: "We have big ambitions for this company, so it was critical that we partnered with the right people who understood our culture and who were excited about the potential for the business. I believe that we have found this in Growth Capital Partners."

Bertus Groenewald, a Director at OI added: "The successful onboarding of Growth Capital Partners marks a meaningful milestone, and the start of an exciting new era. It underscores confidence in our direction and reinforces our vision for technological advancement."
